O'Conor Declines to Run

NEW YORK Sept 2—Charles O'Conor while indorsing the [illegible] nominating a regular straight out Democratic ticket for President and Vice President, declines to be a nominee and has already written letters to that effect to the leaders of the [illegible]ville Convention.

NEW YORK Sept 3—Gen Dix arrived to day from New Hampshire. He [illegible] that he received no [illegible] of his nomination for Governor only a few days ago and would shortly repair there [illegible]. He had yet to decide whether to accept or not but possibly would accept.

News from Texas

Rumor of Indian Troubles Contradicted.

LITTLE ROCK Sept 2—The Sioux troubles have again broken out in Pope county. On Saturday evening the County Clerk, Hickoff Sheriff Dodson, and Deputy Sheriff Williams while attempting to remove the county records from the county seat to a place of greater safety, were fired upon by concealed assassins. Hickoff was killed but the others escaped. While Justice of the Peace Brown was holding an inquest on the body of Hickoff he was shot and mortally wounded. Dodson and Williams arrived here this evening and reported the facts to Gov Mansfield.

The Straight-out Democrats

LOUISVILLE Sept 2—The large accessions to the delegations looks as if the Convention would be composed of four or five hundred. They are generally not well known as politicians. Senator Bayard Judge Woodward of Pennsylvania J Proctor Knott, of Kentucky Chauncy Burr of New Jersey, and Hon Wm Carey of Ohio are perhaps the best known here. Nearly all the States will be represented. There is an absence from Southern delegations of men of prominence. A good deal of excitement was created this evening among friends of the Convention or through the judicial application of force creating such confusion as to prevent the nomination of O Conor. A large number of Greeley Liberals are in the city. As far as Louisville is concerned but little sympathy is shown for the straight movement.

This evening, in the grounds of the Galt House Col Blanton Duncan casually interrupted a conversation between Gen G A Custer who is here to attend the Industrial Exposition and Dr J Keller, one of the prominent physicians of this city. A sharp conversation ensued in the course of which Duncan declared he had been offered a million dollars by the Greeley party to break up the Straight out Democratic Convention. Gen Custer responded that the party must have offered him more than that, and he could prove that Duncan had said the whole thing was a bargain and said if he was to be sold he would sell to the party that would pay the highest price. Duncan responded that Custar's informant was a liar. Dr Keller said, I am responsible for the statement, and demanded a retraction. Duncan refused whereupon Keller struck him in the face. Duncan reeled and attempted to strike Keller. Several blows passed, when the parties were separated.

The bark [illegible] Burrard Inlet to load lumber for San Francisco.

A NEW USE FOR CATS.—A correspondent of [illegible] Rural writes: It often appears to me that people for the most part are not aware of the great use cats are to us. Of course we know of their use with respect to mice and rats but do we generally know of the invaluable help they can give us in protecting from birds our garden fruits and flowers? To keep off the destructive birds how simple how certain is it. How small is the cost of a cat on a small chain sliding on a wire and giving the animal the walk up and down the whole length of the garden bed. A knot at each end of the wire readily prevents the cat from twisting round the post which supports the wire, and a small kennel placed in the middle of the walk affords her shelter and a home for her kittens. In large gardens a second cat is required and the young ones in their frequent visits to each other greatly assist in scaring away the birds. I have for more than thirty years used and seen used with perfect success this easy method of protecting fruit and the very same plan is equally good in keeping hares and rabbits off flower beds. After the first few days cats in no way dislike this partial restraint and when set quite free after a few weeks' watching they will of their own accord continue on guard. The kittens more especially attach themselves to this garden occupation and of their own accord become the gardener's best allies.

North Carolina advices state that Merrimon has decided not to contest Caldwell's election.

The Probable Louisville Candidates

LOUISVILLE Sept 3—The declination of O Conor seems to be final but there is a strong disposition to nominate him and put the responsibility of refusal on him. GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS

The island of Juan Fernandez has been ceded to a German society and is now being settled by a colony from Faderland.

The Hungarian papers claim that their volunteer army is the best in the world. It is to consist of 150,000 infantry and 9,000 horse.

No wood is used for fuel on the Russian railways. This order is very strict, and is intended to preserve the forests from complete destruction.

Stokes has applied for a more airy cell in the Tombs three physicians certifying that he is suffering from bronchitis and asthma. If he had his deserts he would have a still severer neck complaint.

Massachusetts saloon keepers employ armies of ragged urchins to watch for State police. As soon as one of the stars puts in a glimmer the sentinels run like prairie dogs to their holes, and the holes are put in order.

A Maine advocate of Greeley recently gave as a reason for his choice of candidate that he has $100 000 in Confederate bonds, which he captured during the war, and which he thinks will be valuable if Greeley is elected.

The Maryland courts now forbid parties obtaining divorces from marrying again during the lifetime of the respective complainants. This is according to a recent law devised to check the rapid increase of disrupted unions.

In Liverpool it has been found that the publication of the names of persons who become intoxicated, has reduced the number of drunkards one half in six months. But would the publication of Gratz Brown's name a dozen times over reduce him half?

There are annually sold in the markets of Paris snails of the value of 50,000 to 60,000 francs. They pay no tax coming into the city. Since oysters have become so dear and scarce, the aggregate amount expended for them has risen to 125,000 francs in Paris a year.

The Vallejo (Cal) Chronicle says that Gen Hooker has changed his base and now supports Grant.

State Senator Tompkins, of Alameda county, Cal a prominent and influential Democrat, has announced his intention of supporting Grant and Wilson.

A recent letter from Virginia represents the Republicans as making a most stirring canvass, with great prospects of carrying the State. Large numbers of Democrats reject Greeley, and the most influential leaders of the party support the independent or straight Democratic movement.

A few days ago one of Greeley's old acquaintances from Kansas called to see the philosopher in New York. "Well, Anthony," said the Democratic candidate, "what can you do for me in Kansas?" "Nothing much," was the reply, "we'll beat you by twenty thousand majority."

What is the matter? Those lists of names of ghostly Republicans, shadows of men in buckram, who were pronouncing for Greeley, as the Democratic organs were wont to have it —where are they? Invention seems exhausted. Even the Herald can find no more of this sort of material with which to stuff its columns.

Andy Johnson is out as a candidate against the rebel General ring that now rules that State. No less than ten ex rebel Generals are now candidates for the leading offices in Tennessee. Johnson runs against Gen Cheatham for Congressman at Large. A canvass of Nashville and other places shows a majority of Democratic votes for Johnson.

LITERARY MADMEN —Dr Moreau (de Tours) has written a work in which he contends that genius arises from the same organic conditions as insanity, and is, in fact, synonymous with it. His theory substantially amounts to this: That genius like insanity, is a symptom of disease of the brain. Without conceding all that is claimed by Dr Moreau it cannot be denied that a very large number of the geniuses of the world have been either melancholic or very eccentric, and in some instances, have been the victims of violent and repeated attacks of insanity. Dr Johnson was hypochondriacal, and in various ways gave evidence of a morbid condition of the brain. At the early age of twenty he became the victim of melancholic delusions and from that time forward was never happy. On one occasion he exclaimed despairingly "I would consent to have an arm amputated to recover my spirits." Wretchedness like this, when it is temporary or spasmodic, may signify but little, but, when it is persistent and life long it must be regarded as the symptom of cerebral disease that may, and often does, advance to absolute madness. The violent impetuosity of Dr Johnson his unreasonable prejudices may be accounted for on the same theory. Some of the brightest geniuses in literature have been at intervals subject to attacks of madness. Southey lived for years in perpetual dread of insanity, and when at last he kneeled in the furrow, worn out through mental excitement and fatigue he composed that most instructive and useful of his works, The Life of Cowper. That Rousseau was a lunatic will be admitted without question by those who have studied his life and writings however ardently they may admire his genius. Pascal was one of the most original thinkers of France but no inmate of any asylum ever presented more indisputable proofs of mental diseases than those which characterized his whole career. All his life he walked in darkness knowing not at what he stumbled in constant fear both of the present and the future. He was the victim of absurd delusions was harassed by excessive nervousness, and was the slave of uncontrollable eccentricities. On examination after death his brain was found to be very seriously diseased.

"A newspaper in Washington Territory appeals to the East to 'Send us Wives!' The editor is probably not aware that polygamy is prohibited in this part of the country and that it will consequently be impossible for any generous whole souled philanthropist among us to comply with his request. Hardly any man here has more wives than he absolutely wants. The practice of marrying half a dozen at a time was abandoned as soon as it was discovered that William Penn left so many widows that charitable people were compelled to build the Penn Widows Asylum in order to give them a decent and comfortable home. Now if it had been mothers in law that they want in Washington Territory, there would have been no trouble. Almost any man can spare a mother in law and we know a man who has been married several times who would be willing to send three or four away to a distant land forever and ever, to oblige a friend. We are entirely destitute of generosity here at the East."

FROM CURRY COUNTY

STOCK MINES AND POLITICS

A correspondent at Ellensburg sends us the following in regard to matters in Curry county:

Many families have recently arrived in this county from the East, and express themselves satisfied with the country. There is abundance of grass in the mountains near here, and of course stock does remarkably well. Those who have come here to find homes and range for their stock are already located and prospering, and ere many years they will be surrounded with all the comforts of a mountain home. It might be proper to add, that there is plenty of vacant range left, and others who may choose to cast their lot with us will find a rich soil and a healthy climate.

Several rich deposits of black sand have been found recently near Port Orford, and the people are much excited thereat. Several claims which have been opened are paying well, and claims are being recorded every day. Mr Wm Cox, while prospecting for 'sand' recently found a well defined ledge of cinnabar, which is pronounced to be No. 1. Mr C and some friends are now at work getting out rock for shipment to San Francisco. Several prospecting parties are in the mountains hunting quartz, and it is highly probable that they will be well paid for their trouble.

Politically we stand "cheek by jowl," that is, the Democrats are going for Horace's jowl. The Democrats here don't take to Horace kindly. I heard a Democrat remark the other day that he always takes his whisky straight, and he wanted his Democracy served up likewise. I presume that he wanted no Chappaqua hash in his. Few, indeed, are the followers of Horace in this county. I know of several Democrats who have openly declared for Grant and Wilson, but not one Republican who thinks of casting his ballot for Horace and Gratz. Depend upon it Curry county will speak in tones of thunder for Grant and Wilson. Cincinnatus Jasper has sent many of his portraits to this county, perhaps for campaign documents.

Absenteeism of General Jackson.

A correspondent of the St Paul Press alludes to the pitiful charges of "absenteeism" made against President Grant, and thus recalls to recollection the like charge against President Jackson:

As a boy, in the city of Cincinnati, I have a vivid recollection of the administration of General Jackson. You know his old home was at the 'Hermitage,' as he called it on the banks of the Cumberland river, some sixteen miles above Nashville. Well, Old Hickory was in the habit every alternate year during both terms of his occupancy of the Presidential chair, (at the close of the term of each Congress) to repair in the summer season to his home, and there pass say the months of June July, August and on some occasions part of September. His line of travel was over the mountains by stage coach from Baltimore to Wheeling, Virginia, thence down the Ohio and up the Cumberland to the Hermitage. Under the most favorable circumstances, and with a good stage of water in both rivers, the journey could not consume less than ten days. Sand bars in low water might make it twenty or thirty. I can recollect the Presidential campaign of 1832, when the opposition made this same charge against "Old Hickory" of "Absenteeism" that is now being made against Grant. But it don't take worth a dime, although in regard to intelligence and education on political subjects the great masses were then comparatively with our present voting population as were the Britons when Cæsar found them to the Normans in 1066.

All these things are as vivid and fresh in my memory as though they had occurred last year. We school boys of Cincinnati used to play truant and go down to the levee to "see General Jackson" when it was known that he was to pass either up or down the river on a certain day.

County Fairs

[illegible] the present season has been [illegible] Oregon [illegible] showing [illegible]

In [illegible] agricultur[illegible] interest [illegible] manifest [illegible] the Fair [illegible] be no portion of the importance of the County Agricultural Society. They bring the farmers of the country together, turn the minds of all into lines of progression and advancement, create a healthy emulation and competition, and above all distribute the knowledge and experience of the few among the many. If one farmer has succeeded in getting some extra species of wheat, corn, potatoes, oats or barley, the county exhibition will be certain to distribute it. If another has some fine animals on exhibition there will be hundreds anxious to secure some of the same blood, and so in the case of every other improvement. The Fair becomes the medium for the distribution of experience, knowledge and advancement. So that every farmer in the county may have the advantage and assistance of all his neighbors instead of running on in the old groove of custom worn by exclusiveness and selfishness.

The great majority of men and women have a pride and laudable ambition to excel, and the annual Fair gives them a chance to compare their progress with that of their neighbors. It spurs them up to become better farmers, better stock growers and better men and women generally. They prepare their ground better, plow deeper, are more careful about the quality of the seed they sow, are moved to make improvements in their buildings, to obtain a better stock of horses, cows, sheep and pigs, and to care better for them. In short the Fair may be a great agency in promoting highly valuable improvements, and its importance cannot be overestimated. A larger number of our counties should organize Agricultural Societies.

Portentous Things

It is especially noticeable that the Greeley campaign in all parts of the country lacks animation and vigor. A correspondent of the New York Herald (Greeley) who has traveled through six counties in the interior of the State of New York, finds wide prevailing apathy among the Democrats. He says that they are letting the "Liberal Republicans" do "all the plowing and sowing and hoeing, and they just sit on the fence and look on. They don't turn out at the mass meetings and they don't furnish speakers. In short the so called 'Liberals,' though comparatively weak in numbers, are doing all the campaign work and are getting no help from the Democrats in the way of active, go in assistance. The complaint everywhere was of the apathy of the Democracy." The correspondent's explanation is that the majority of that party "find Greeley a bitter pill to swallow." "In a word," says he, "there is no enthusiasm among the Democrats for Greeley, and the difference between the way they in times past showed their devotion to the candidate selected out of their own party and the way they now support Greeley is so marked that he who runs through the State unprejudiced and with an eye simply to facts, can read the condition of things without the aid of the weakest kind of magnifiers."

There is no question whatever that this statement will apply equally throughout the whole country. Proofs abound everywhere. A campaign which was begun with a hurrah like that with which novelties are often hailed, grows languid. No doubt a majority of Democrats will vote for Greeley, but their voting is not enough. To make a successful canvass, all possible influences must be brought to bear. There are multitudes of voters who can be brought out only by the efforts of others, and by an exciting campaign. Individual effort by the members of a party is an indispensable condition to success, and this effort is what is wanting in behalf of Greeley, among the Democracy. To all appearances it will be wanting to the end of the canvass. The few Republicans who have joined Greeley's fortunes can accomplish but little. They make considerable noise in some localities, but the Democracy, from whom the votes must come, are not and it would seem cannot be aroused to active enthusiasm and individual effort.

The time has been when every Democrat worked with as much spirit as if the issue depended on his own energies and unaided efforts. But that time clearly is not now. There is a vast deal of malingering among the rank and file. Even the leaders send forth bugle blasts and make few calls to duty. Advices from all trustworthy sources bear witness to these facts. The apathy of the Democracy in a Presidential canvass, especially in the great State of New York and Pennsylvania, was never so manifest as now. Is this a portent? What result does it point upon?

Some one having quoted from the New York Tribune that "Grant and his policy deserve the very highest credit," that "General Grant has never been beaten and never will be," and that "the people of the United States owe General Grant [illegible]," the editor of the Tribune replies that these opinions of the late editor, which he names "certificates of character," were obtained under false pretense, "just as servants frequently manage to get what they call characters at the age of fifteen, when they are sober and industrious, and use them at the age of forty-five when they are inebriate and lazy." The Sacramento [illegible] replies to this by observing that the wit of it is feeble and the tone of it bred of blackguardism. The fact is that the Tribune never ceased to speak well of Grant until Greeley's vain ambition got between him and the truth and made it to his personal interest to falsify and defame the President.

An intelligent writer on European politics holds that the transmission of [illegible] the Czar to Thiers, stating that the meeting of the Emperors at Berlin is not aimed at France, shows unmistakably that, no matter how pacific the intentions of the Emperor Alexander the Second may be for the next few years, the Russian Government has by no means [illegible] its traditional policy in regard to the Eastern question, and that however friendly its relations with the German Empire may be at the present juncture, it is unwilling to offend France, the only ally upon whose assistance it may count when it prepares to march its troops toward Constantinople.

Here is a proposition which is respectfully submitted to whom it may concern. A [illegible] the humor of the members of the [illegible]cratic Committee who nominated Judge Shat[illegible] on Monday last. O. P. Mason and [illegible] others who nominated him in June [illegible] the majority against him [illegible] to the majority which will be against him in November.

The [illegible] has [illegible] taken out in the corduroy road on [illegible] and has made such havoc as to render passage almost impossible.

Rev Joseph Hoberg, Treasurer of the M. E. Conference Sunday School fund, reports $11[illegible] as the amount collected in that behalf in Oregon during the past Conference year.

A friend just up from Coos county informs the P[illegible] that one day last week he counted twenty six sea going crafts at Empire City. About sixteen vessels on the average enter that Bay weekly.

This is from the Monmouth Messenger: "Grain that was standing in the field of W. Churchill this morning was cut, threshed, hauled five miles to mill, ground to flour, the flour brought home and cooked and eaten for supper on the same day it was harvested."

Judging from reports received from reliable men who reside in different parts of Douglas, Coos and Curry counties, not more than four out of five of the Democrats will vote for Greeley. In Coos county hardly a Greeley man can be found, either Republican or Democrat.

The Salem Statesman says: "The average yield of wheat on Howell Prairie in Marion county is stated at 32 bushels per acre." The Farmer says: "Mr Rockenfield on Davis Shannon's farm threshed 44 bushels of excellent fall wheat per acre—summer fallow and drilled. Forshaw's turned out 34 bushels—same sort of land and mode of farming. The drilled crops are decidedly better than those harrowed in. The oats crop yielded rather poorly—too much dry weather in ripening."

Our Hillsboro correspondent sends us the following: "An immense excitement prevails throughout Washington county in relation to the Nehalem valley on the line of the Astoria railroad. A party of seven left Hillsboro to explore the valley, with a view of taking homesteads. They returned highly pleased with the prospects, so much so that a majority of them will return soon and commence fitting up for a permanent stay. They report a large valley of open timbered lands with no underbrush, and here and there scopes of prairie of twenty or thirty acres ready for the plow. They further report that there is some of the finest water powers in the world; that the grass in that valley is waist high and as fresh and green as grass looks in the spring of the year; that there is room for one hundred families as near as they could judge; that the timber on a portion of the lands range from seven to twenty inches in diameter, and wagons can be driven anywhere without using an axe; that they saw wheat put in with a spade by an old bachelor which promised to yield 70 bushels to the acre, and vegetables in the garden looked better than any they had seen on the coast, California not excepted. The soil is a rich sandy black loam. William L. Smith, who has just returned from a tour of surveying in that district, says that he has discovered a very large coal vein on the line of said road, and on his being shown a specimen of Cumberland coal, pronounced it to be equal to that shown him. He further says that he was able by the aid of a handspike to roll out great chunks of it seven feet long. The prospect is sufficient to warrant any one to invest with a view to mining. Renters from all parts of the county are pouring into Hillsboro eagerly inquiring after this valley. Surveyor Smith says that the altitude is twice as low as Tualatin Plains, and, judging from appearances, the winters are milder than those here. Much of that country yet remains unexplored, and from the reports as to the existence of quartz and wash gravel there can be no doubt but that gold will be found in paying quantities."

San Francisco

A ST. LOUIS CORRESPONDENT'S IMPRESSION OF THE CITY AND ITS PEOPLE.

We clip the following from a letter written to the St. Louis Republican from this city, under date of August 8th:

The representative man of San Francisco is a bundle of tacks and fish hooks, done up in sand paper; in other words, a being vivid in action, boundless in hope and a dare devil by nature. He is made up of the game blood of one or more branches of the Caucasian type of the human race. He stakes everything on a venture and never squeals when he loses all. He is strongly individualized, and thinks you are not up to snuff if you don't "get away" with somebody on stocks, bonds or mines. He is a jolly fellow, very liberal, and likes to pay his debts when he can, but when he can't, laughs and says, "Come again." He is familiar with all the ways of the big cities of America and many of Europe, and makes himself at home wherever his hat is off. He is in his brain and nervous system, because he is always under intense cerebral excitement. I have found more cases of heart disease, brain disease and paralysis of the nerves of sensation and motion in one month than I could scare up in New Orleans, St. Louis and Cincinnati in one year. The representative business man of San Francisco usually pays the penalty of disobeyed organic law at about thirty-eight years of age. Thousands of them have never been to the regions of grandeur spread out all around them in this most wonderful of all States, although living here for ten and twenty years. I have asked a number of broken down brokers, who called to see me about their health, if they had ever taken any recreation amid the beauties of the grand old hills or lovely valleys, and the answer was invariably, "No, I never had time." Chicago men, before the fire, resembled the San Francisco men of business in dash, youth and courage more than any other set I've met. The literary man and the mechanic and the man of science also do too much brain work in this city. There certainly must be something in the climate to make men hurry through life so.

Let me give you a slight sample of the mental activity of this city, not half as big as our city of St. Louis. Twelve regular places of amusement, among which are some of the best actors in the world. Ten monthly publications, thirty-six newspapers—many of them sharp as lightning, and backed by men of money and genius. You can't find a more stylish going set of reporters in the United States. It is a common thing here to meet a young local who has been all over the globe and is capable of speaking and writing many languages. A San Francisco man can tell you all about every great actor, speaker and author before the public, and what he don't know he makes up in imagination.

ATTRACTIONS.

The hotels here are grand. The accommodations I get here for $40 per week would cost in St. Louis $75. It is no wonder that living is cheap, for I never beheld in any city, either in the old or new world, such markets. Oh, but they are immense. Everything from the water and land, every order, genera and species of game, fish, vegetables, fruits, wines, meats, and of such sweet texture. Such pears, peaches, grapes and [illegible] I was [illegible] said before that St. Louis Union Market and New Orleans French Market beat the world. But I take it back. San Francisco [illegible] knocks the socks from them. [illegible] Cliff House, along the beach [illegible] the [illegible] section [illegible] in the [illegible] but [illegible] the heat [illegible] you wander [illegible] overcoat would be necessary to keep you or any St. Louis or Louisville man warm. I have used a fire in my room every day this month and part of last. The air is very rare here and speakers and actors have a hard time getting their wind in from foreign ports. St. Louis people had better turn in and build the Atlantic and Pacific Air line Railroad and come out and spend the summer months. It would pay [illegible] than going to Europe.

After kind words from the Bishop to the ministers, entreating them to go manfully to their new fields of labor and to discharge their duty fearlessly in the sight of Almighty God, the Conference adjourned sine die.

THE TERRITORIES

The fall term of the Olympia Seminary will begin on the 1st prox.

A tri-weekly mail service has been commenced on the route from Olympia to Port Townsend.

J Gregory Smith is reported to have resigned his position as President of the North Pacific Railroad Company, to take effect November 1st, 1872.

An Olympia paper lately puffed a performance of the Crystal Palace Circus, stating that "the large tent was crowded, the riding superb, the audience delighted," etc., when in fact no performance was given on the occasion referred to.

The Kalama Beacon says: taking the population at about 30 000, and in Washington Territory the ratio of penitentiary convicts are one to every 3 000. The insane patients in the Territory are a little in excess of one to each 1 000 inhabitants.

A prospecting party composed of Gen R H Milroy and several others are preparing for a six weeks prospecting tour through the region between the Olympic Range and the Pacific Ocean. That portion of the country has never been visited by white men, hence the trip will possess novelty at least.

Robert Whittlesey fell from the trestlework on the North Pacific Railroad about a mile this side of Humphrey's on Friday of last week and broke his left arm, fractured his right and received other serious bruises. He was formerly a telegraph operator in California, and was well known on the Central Pacific and Oregon roads.

San Juan Island is said to be the best sheep raising country on this coast. A correspondent of the Puget Sound Dispatch says many residents of that island have made fortunes by wool and sheep raising alone. There are at present about one hundred families on the island and as a class they are happy and prosperous. They pay no taxes nor any duty on goods for their own use, and sell what they have for the highest market price.

The Idaho Statesman of the [illegible]th ult. contains the following Indian news: The Indians have broken camp on the Weiser and are returning to their reservation. The [illegible] and Bannacks have been p[illegible] through to [illegible] for several days and so hope the [illegible]. From Dempsey, who came [illegible] with the Bannacks and Shoshones for many years, we learn the number of Indians [illegible] congregated on the Weiser. He says there were 500 Nez Perces, about [illegible] Umatillas, [illegible] Piutes, [illegible] Klikitats, a few Shoshones and the rest Bannack—the total being about 2 000. Most of the Shoshones that were on Big Camas Prairie went over on South [illegible], and only a few went to the Weiser. The Nez Perces were accompanied by a man named [illegible], sent with them to look after their behavior. With this exception no white men or soldiers were with them.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT 4 1872

CITY.

ACCIDENT [illegible] —A young man named [illegible] Proebstel aged about [illegible] years residing at Vancouver [illegible] and another young man who both were out hunting deer last Friday [illegible] the parties were out hunting deer about [illegible] from Vancouver on the day in question [illegible] young Proebstel had separated himself from [illegible] companion and taken a position on a large [illegible] near a deer trail to which for game which [illegible] his way. [illegible] his comrade [illegible] in the mean time had been beating around in the brush [illegible] some [illegible] distance. Presently he came suddenly on a [illegible] wild cat which animal made a hasty retreat into the timber. The direction in which the varmint went was toward the spot where young Proebstel was standing. The young hunter did not know that Proebstel was in the vicinity and he accordingly gave quick pursuit. While slipping cautiously through the undergrowth endeavoring to obtain a shot at the wild cat, he saw some gray object about twenty yards distant move through the brush. Without giving a thought [illegible] to the whereabouts of Proebstel, he [illegible] raised his gun and fired. The gun was double barreled—one barrel for a ball and the other for small shot. He discharged the rifle and was in the act of firing the other barrel which was heavily charged with buckshot in order to be certain and destroy the animal as he supposed when to his dismay he heard a human voice exclaim, "Oh I'm shot." He dropped his gun and ran to the spot where he found Proebstel with one of his arms badly shattered from the rifle ball. The wounded arm had unfortunately been mistakened in haste for the wildcat. The escape from fatal injuries or instant death was very narrow as one or the other would have inevitably resulted, if the body had been seen instead of the arm or the barrel loaded with buckshot discharged. Proebstel was soon faint with pain and the loss of blood. His companion was compelled to carry him a distance of nearly five miles before the nearest house was reached. From there he was conveyed in a wagon to Vancouver. The wound was dressed by Dr J H Lill who is uncertain yet whether amputation will be necessary in order to save the limb or the life of the boy. The arm is much shattered and a large quantity of blood was lost. The affair is very unfortunate but no particular blame is attached to the party who committed the act. The young hunter acted with precipitation, but the accident was purely unintentional.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES —The sermon by Bishop Foster, of the M E Church, last evening, was attended by a large congregation of our citizens and was listened to throughout with the profoundest attention. He was introduced by Rev Mr Izer, Pastor of the Church in this city, and at once proceeded to open the services of the occasion. His text was taken from the 6th verse of the 9th chapter of Isaiah "And his name shall be called Wonderful." Bishop Foster's voice is not as clear as is desirable in a public speaker, but, nevertheless, his power over his audience is very great on account of the terseness and pointed nature of the matter of his discourse. We are not able to give even a synopsis of his sermon but his description of the wonderful nature of Christ as a union of the Godhead and Manhood, the extraordinary manner of His incarnation, the supernatural wisdom he displayed in his disputation with the Elders in the Temple at Jerusalem, the miracle which occurred at his baptism, the diversity which was manifested more particularly in his public life among the Jews, the high purposes and manner of His death were given in a style which is seldom equaled by the orators who have visited our city. But the finest part of his sermon was his description of the Ascension. At this point his entire audience seemed spell bound by the beautiful and touching language in which he spoke of the gathering of the disciples and the lamentation of Christ over the city of Jerusalem as He stood on earth veiled in humanity for the last time, and foresaw the destruction of that [illegible] sinful but doomed city, and His promises to send the comforter to his disciples after He should be taken from them. He closed with an exhortation which seemed to deeply impress many of his hearers. It has seldom been our lot to hear in Oregon so good a talker in the pulpit as Bishop Foster.

SHOOTING AFFAIR —Through private sources we learn the following particulars concerning a [illegible] affair that occurred last Friday evening between Howard Moppin and James Grater, both of whom were witnesses in the U S District Court [illegible] the case of the mail and stage robbers tried last week, in this city. Moppin, it will be remembered, was a witness for the prosecution, and Grater for the defence. Some difficulty, it seems, resulted between the two men, relative to a statement which had been made on the stand during the progress of the trial. Mr Grater reached Ward's station from the Dalles last Friday afternoon. Soon after arriving at the house he laid down on the floor to rest himself from the fatigues of the journey. Soon after Moppin came into the room. When he saw Grater on the floor, he drew a pistol and said, "There is a statement you made while on the stand, which I intend you shall take back and apologize for." As soon as Grater saw Moppin approaching with his pistol cocked, he sprang to his feet. He made a pass at the weapon evidently with the intention of knocking the pistol out of Moppin's hand, or to turn it one side when it was discharged. The ball passed through Grater's right hand, mangling it shockingly. It is not known whether the pistol was discharged by accident or intentionally by Moppin. No arrest was made at last accounts. After the occurrence Grater came down to the [illegible] to have his wounded limb dressed. The detail as given above is as near correct as we were able to ascertain, as yet. More complete and correct details will be furnished in a few days.

HANDSOME PAINTING —A Mr T L Coughlin, an artist from San Francisco, is now engaged in [illegible] an oil picture in this city. The scene [illegible] the confluence of the Wallamet and Columbia at a point some ten miles below Portland. Looking directly forward the Columbia River can be seen winding like a broad belt of silver clear away towards the base of the Cascades, and looming up grandly in the dim perspective is Mount Hood, with the rugged mountain range [illegible] both north and south from the peak for [illegible] distance. It is one of the finest views we have ever seen of this peak or the contiguous mountains. On the right hand side the fine steamer Oneonta can be seen just in the act of rounding the point of land separating the two streams, on her way to the Cascades. Below, on the left hand side, is the propeller Gussie Telfair with a full head of steam bound for this city, and just turning into the mouth of the Wallamet. The vessels are painted so accurately true to nature that a [illegible] is sufficient to recognize both or either. The scene represents the sun as it is emerging from behind the eastern gorges of the Cascades and gilding with purple and gold the whole view, exhibiting to the best advantage the gorgeous play of the lights and shadows. The picture is yet incomplete and will not be finished for several days. We learn that it has already been purchased by a gentleman of this city for the modest sum of one hundred and ninety dollars. When completed and framed the picture will be 3x1[illegible] feet.

JUDGE UPTON'S DECISION —Judge Upton filed his decision in the Clerk's office a few days ago in the matter of "State of Oregon ex rel Geo A Steel vs Wm Masters." As the case has elicited considerable public interest, we publish the findings in the case.

The said Wm Masters was duly elected at the said general election to the office of Treasurer of said county. That on the first Monday of July he filed with the County Clerk of said county his certificate of election with his oath of office subscribed and sworn by him endorsed thereon and [illegible] upon the business of giving and filing his official undertaking and pursued the [illegible] of perfecting and filing said undertaking until the same was perfected and filed which acts were completed on the 5th day of July last and the said Masters entered upon said office or its [illegible]. That said Masters was at the time of the commencement of this proceeding the duly elected and qualified Treasurer of said county. It is [illegible] ordered and adjudged that the said plaintiff (G A Steel) take nothing by his said [illegible], and that the said defendant (Wm Masters) recover his costs.

CLEANING STREETS —Fifteen hundred notices have been served on as many different persons in this city within the last week by the Street Commissioner. Such notices were served on parties whose premises are suffered to remain in a condition violative of the sanitary regulations. During the last three days he has served notices from the extreme limits of Front, First, Second and Third streets. To day he will commence serving notices to residents along the intersecting streets embracing the business portions of the city which are most densely populated, and therefore require a more rigid observance of the sanitary requirements. It would be well for those on whom notices are served, to at once comply with the requirements of such notification. In every instance where the same is disregarded, complaint will be made by the Commissioner after a reasonable time elapses and no action has been taken. Parties arrested for a violation of the requirements after the service of a notice are liable to a fine of not less than $5, nor greater than $5[illegible].

FAILED A FIRE —About [illegible] last Sunday morning Mr R [illegible] residing near the corner of Fourth and Wa[illegible] streets was aroused by a [illegible] knocking [illegible] at his door. He arose and demanded to know who was there and what was wanted at that hour of the night. He was informed [illegible] to come out in a hurry if he did not want his premises burned up. Mr [illegible] hastily dressed himself and went out. He found a [illegible] burning in a vacant lot [illegible] of his house and but a few feet distant from a woodshed belonging to one of his near neighbors. A few buckets of water extinguished the [illegible] conflagration. It is not known whether the combustibles were set on fire intentionally or some hot ashes and embers had been thought[illegible] thrown out which caused the fire. Its timely discovery saved the destruction of much property as it was at a time in the night when it would have obtained good headway before its existence would be likely to be detected.

A NEW BUILDING —Excavation has been commenced near the foot of C street for a new brick building to be erected by Captain Flanders. A stone foundation will be laid starting at the northeast corner of the present brick block aligning with a wall of that building and running north until C street is intersected. The stone wall will then extend west to Front street. This will inclose an area of ground [illegible]0x50 feet. On this vacant space of ground a two story brick will be commenced of the above dimensions and when completed will fill the block entirely on with solid fire-proof buildings. The lower story will be divided into two store rooms each twenty five feet wide, extending through the length of the building. The stone foundation will only be finished this fall as the season is already for advanced. Work on the building will be resumed next year as soon as the spring fairly opens.

ROADWAY —Workmen are engaged in making a roadway along the southern side of Ankeny's new market, extending through from First to Front streets. The roadway is sixteen feet in width. It will be planked or graveled and covered over with a substantial awning. Teams with wagons from the country loaded with vegetables, etc can drive in along this roadway and hitch at different places, where they can remain all day if necessary, without charge to the owners. The awning will screen horses and vehicles from the sun in summer, and shelter them from the rain in winter. It will prove a valuable attachment to the market.

TO GIVE PLACE —The large wooden building which occupied the ground at the corner of C and Front streets, will soon be removed to give place for the foundation of a new brick building to occupy the site. The building is at present used as a wareroom and office for Captain Flanders. Several times already has this old wooden tenement changed localities to make room for more substantial and sightly edifices and it seems that Progress is still on its track necessitating its removal again.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION —The County Court, now in session, will consume this week in the transaction of the usual county business and will not be able to turn their attention to the examination of the assessment rolls before next week. Next Monday has been the time set for the commencement of the examination of the tax list. The County Court will probably remain in session during the entire week as a Board of Equalization.

THE PRESBYTERY OF OREGON—Composed of Churches and Ministers in the Territories of Idaho and Washington and the State of Oregon, will hold a regular session in this city, to be opened with a sermon and other religious exercises on Thursday evening the 5th inst., in the Presbyterian Church. There will also be preaching on Friday and Saturday evenings. The public are cordially invited.

HELD TO ANSWER —The Indian, Narcuss was preliminarily examined yesterday before Justice Dodge, on the charge of being concerned in the killing of the half breed Royse. After a hearing the defendant was held to answer, and is now lodged in jail. Jim, the other Indian, supposed also to be connected with the murder, will be examined to day.

FLOORING —Constant use and the climatic tendencies of Webfoot have rendered a new flooring to the older portion of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company's wharf necessary as a precautionary measure. Many of the planks are much decayed, and unable to bear a heavily loaded wagon with safety. New planks will be substituted.

ALL RENTED —All the stalls in Ankeny's new market have been leased but five, which number have been especially reserved. A number of carpenters are now engaged in putting up wooden partitions to separate the stalls from each other. Everything will be in readiness to open in grand style on the 23th inst.

TRIAL TRIP —Everything being in readiness the trial trip of the little stern wheel steamer Maria Wilkins, will take place to morrow. The steamer will leave this city at an early hour, and either go down the river to Oak Point, or over to Vancouver, returning the same day.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The public schools of this city commenced Monday morning. Most of the day was employed by the teachers in the organization of classes [illegible] assisted by the School Directors Messrs Glenn and [illegible] and also yesterday the work of classification was resumed and is not yet completed. It is quite probable that the several schools will not be in perfect systematic working condition before the close of the present week.

The High School (Harrison street) under the management of Prof J W Johnson commenced with the largest number of pupils that were ever present at the opening of any previous school year every seat being occupied. A new Assistant has been engaged for this department—Mr Meachen—with Miss Hodgdon still retaining her former position.

The North Portland Grammar School under the principalship of Prof S W King, of Lafayette who is a teacher of extensive experience and is assisted by the following corps of able and efficient teachers: Miss F D Holman First Assistant Miss Marie Gibson Second Assistant Miss Mary Gallagher Third Assistant Miss Emma Monastes, Fourth Assistant Miss [illegible] Dwyer Fifth Assistant. The latter lady has charge of the Primary Department.

The Central School House, owing to the unfinished condition of the old and the erection of the new building for the High School, is considerably retarded in the organization but this is being accomplished as rapidly as circumstances will admit. This school is under management of Professor J M Williamson the former Principal for the ensuing school year just opened. He is assisted by the following teachers: First Assistant Miss Julia Sutton Second Assistant Miss S C Ritchey Third Assistant Miss Mary Pollock Fourth Assistant Miss Selina Barker Fifth Assistant, Mrs Phelps. All these female instructors are well known to this public and require no recommendation from any one.

The South Portland school of which department of the Public Schools Prof I W Pratt is Principal for the coming year has the following teachers as Assistants: First Assistant Miss Sophia Taylor Second Assistant Miss Annie Shelby Third Assistant Miss H B Hoover Fourth Assistant, Mrs J E Briggs Fifth Assistant, Miss Fannie Hodman, and J M Carter. The schools are as well supplied with teachers as the amount of room will permit at present. When the large house now in process of erection will be completed, (and additional room afforded) the schools that are now crowded will be relieved. The pupils will be better classified, placed in larger rooms, better furnished with all the necessary appliances of education, and if the number of pupils require, an additional force of teachers will be employed.

The public schools are now thoroughly supplied with the best and most competent teachers in the country, and an opportunity afforded to all—whether rich or poor—who may desire to obtain a good education free of charge. No one need now attend private or select schools to obtain an education unless they do so from choice. Every branch is being taught which is included in any of the high or graded schools of the East—Latin, Greek, French, and all the English branches, including the higher courses of mathematics. The directors desire to state to this public that no pains, labor or expense will be spared in making these schools thorough, efficient and systematic in their operations, and such care will be taken of the pupils' morals that no one shall in the future find just ground for censure as to the manner in which the public schools of Portland are conducted, which public means of instruction as an eminent writer has stated "constitute the true bulwark of American institutions."

The Three Bells

Beneath the low hung night clouds
That raked her splintering mast
The good ship settled slowly
The cruel leak gained fast

Over the awful ocean
Her signal guns pealed out
Dear God was that thy answer
From the horror round about

A voice came down the wild wind
Ho ship ahoy its cry
Our stout Three Bells of Glasgow
Shall stand till daylight by

Hour after hour crept slowly
Yet on the heaving swells
Tossed up and down the ship
The lights of the Three Bells

And ship to ship made signals
Man answered back to man
While oft to cheer and hearten
The Three Bells nearer ran

And the captain from her taffrail
Sent down his hopeful cry
Take heart Hold on he shouted
The Three Bells shall stand by

All night across the waters
The tossing lights shone clear
All night from reeling taffrail
The Three Bells sent her cheer

And when the dreary watches
Of storm and darkness passed,
Just as the wreck lurched under
All souls were saved at last

Sail on Three Bells forever
In grateful memory sail
Ring on Three Bells of rescue

As thine in night and tempest
I hear the master's cry
And tossing through the darkness
The lights of God draw nigh

A Blind Mute

THE MOST SINGULAR BEING IN CONNECTICUT

A letter from Killingly Connecticut, narrates the following

"On a drive with some friends over Pomfret hills the other day we called on a singular character—a man thirty years old, who is deaf, dumb and blind Whether he would have been dumb or not if he had been blessed with the sense of hearing it is impossible to tell, but his glimmerings of intellect are evidently very feeble Where all the avenues of communication but the sense of touch are closed, if intellect exists it will show itself, as in the case of Julia Brace

This man is well developed, physically, is of ordinary height, has a stout, thick neck, and looks strong and robust, and here comes in an interesting fact for physiologists and those who make a study of health in connection with diet. This man has never eaten any thing but milk Thirty years on clear milk, and with a neck like an ox, and apparently a muscular system to correspond Can we say that milk is for babes and calves only and not for strong men?

This man had a full set of strong double teeth clear round, and every one of them had to be pulled out, as he tore his clothes with them. As he didn't need them to chew his milk with, he probably thought he must make some use of them, as they were evidently made for something, and his clothes furnished excellent material on which to exercise them

Another peculiarity of this strange being is that through all his long life he has chewed a rag or rather, I should say has gummed it since his strong teeth were taken from him From infancy, his mother has had to place a rag in his mouth as soon as he has taken his food I asked her what he would do if she omitted it. She said he would give her no peace till she put it back He distinguishes strangers from the neighbors and those who have visited him before.

I took hold of his hand, and he took it in both his and seemed to be considering, then passed his hand up the length of my arm, and then patted his head and chest and made a singular guttural noise. I asked his mother what these manifestations indicated? She said that was his way of expressing joy—of showing that he was pleased His principal amusement seems to consist in having his mother get through with her work and sit down by his side.

He has a swing in the room, in which he spends a good part of the time swinging When his mother steps out, he will lock the door so that she can not get back again which shows that he has some wit about him, or trickery, at least He is always very wakeful at night, and rouses his mother out of bed many times She says she has lived thus without a good night's rest for thirty years, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday nights

Every Saturday night he calms down like a lamb, and keeps that night and all the Sunday after the strict letter of the old "Blue Laws" of Connecticut. I don't suppose he would venture to kiss his mother that day Evidently the spirit of Cotton Mather takes possession of him then and rules triumphantly until Monday morning

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

TUESDAY EVENING, Sept. 3 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 113⅛

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying 88½ selling

The steamship Ajax, from San Francisco is expected to arrive by to-morrow morning

To morrow evening at 7 o'clock the steamship Geo S Wright will sail for Sitka The day next following at the same hour the California will sail for Victoria and Puget Sound.

The steamer Oriflamme arrived at San Francisco to day from this port

The bark Helen W Almy arrived to day at Astoria from the salmon fisheries along the river Her cargo consists entirely of salmon She is bound for San Francisco, and will pass out to sea the first favorable opportunity

The ships Electra and Navigator are both discharging their cargoes of iron below the boneyard The work progresses quite slowly on account of the difficulty experienced in getting the iron rails out of the ship's hold The cargoes will probably not be discharged before the last of the present week

The slow movement of Wheat and other home products depresses general business Yet with a continually widening area of trade, business continues fair Much money has been sent into the interior to purchase Wheat but holders are slow to sell and consequently the Wheat does not move nor does the cash return to the channels of business

A somewhat better market for Wheat is again reported both in Liverpool and San Francisco But in the absence of a sufficiency of tonnage to move the crop of our Pacific States, and on account of the extreme rates now exacted for freight a rise in Liverpool can do us little present good. But it is reported that owing to the increased demand for vessels to load Wheat on this coast a number of vessels are about to be dispatched from New York

A San Francisco paper of the 30th ult has the following relative to finances in that city The Money Market is getting into a desperate condition, with heavy exports and no production The Mint has made scarcely any coin for the public during the present month while the exports by rail and sea reach nearly $3 000 000 and $1 500 000 through the post office and upwards of 1 000 000 has been secured for the China steamer which leaves on Saturday The customs have absorbed nearly $1 000,000 $6,800 000 has been taken out of our supply during the current month, while the mint has only made about $400 000 and a draft on the Treasury has been obtained for $300 000 No wonder money is scarce and the banks have none to loan The Produce market is also similarly affected by the stringency in the Money Market

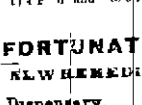
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhoea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency, &c Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and din?ged faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late.—Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest the cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. He therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in a registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary ones of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers, etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates pretended patients letters, etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure
